"Jesus the Magician in the Earliest Versions of Toledot Yeshu"

Presented by
Gideon Bohak
Professor of Jewish Philosophy and Talmud
Tel Aviv University, Tel Aviv

February 13th, 2019
5:00pm

Gideon Bohak teaches at Tel Aviv University, and focuses on the history of Jewish magic and on the magical, mystical, astrological and divinatory texts from the Cairo Genizah. His most recent books include Ancient Jewish Magic: A History, Cambridge, 2008, and A Fifteenth-Century Manuscript of Jewish Magic, Los Angeles, 2014 (in Hebrew). His many articles are devoted to the publication and analysis of new texts, and to programmatic discussions of Jewish magic and of Jewish history.

For additional information contact -
Program in Judaic Studies
451 College Street
New Haven, CT 06511
Email—renee.reed@yale.edu
Phone—(203)432-0843

Lecture will be held at the
Sterling Memorial Library
Judaica Collection Reading Room
3rd Floor, Rm. 335b
120 High St., New Haven

This Lecture was made possible by the William & Miriam Horowitz Fund